++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Cloud and outbreaks of rain spreading east later tonight.

This Evening and Tonight:
Sunny spells and a few light showers this evening, but these will soon die away. Towards midnight, cloud will spread in from the west, bringing outbreaks of rain later, as well as patches of hill fog to the Pennines. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tuesday:
A rather cloudy and breezy day, with outbreaks of rain and drizzle. However, these should become increasingly light and intermittent through Tuesday, with most places dry by the late afternoon. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Largely dry Wednesday with some bright spells. Showers developing Thursday, heavy in places. Cloudy on Friday with some patchy rain possibly spreading into western parts, but becoming warm further east.
